Federal Perspectives

Federal Perspectives provides a concise, monthly summary of national policy developments and initiatives affecting persons with developmental disabilities and the programs that serve them. From bills pending before Congress on health care reform, to changes in federal-state Medicaid policies and the shift of government responsibility from Washington to the states, “Essential, informative, timely, well-written, visually appealing, and factual are descriptors that come to mind when I think about the Community Services Reporter and Perspectives newsletters. Simply stated, they are ‘must read’ publications for disability professionals.”

M. Doreen Croser
Retired Executive Director
AAIDD

Federal Perspectives keeps readers in tune with the latest national issues shaping publicly funded disability services. As its name denotes, Federal Perspectives takes a step back each month to examine the implications of federal developments on the delivery of services to persons with developmental disabilities.

Community Services Reporter (CSR)

Community Services Reporter is the only monthly newsletter in the U.S. reporting exclusively on state and local efforts in supporting and serving individuals with developmental disabilities and their families. Topics covered in CSR include state service initiatives such as new service designs; financial management strategies; supports for self-advocacy; key state legislation; facility closures; litigation summaries; research developments; and budget overviews.
